

SIMILARITIES AND DIFFERENCES
FROM
CHEMICALLY ADDICTED (ALCOHOL AND DRUGS)

© Sheila Wexler

SIMILARITIES

- Try to stop and can't
- Lie to cover up
- Stigma like alcohol 25 years ago
- Depressions, highs and lows
- Controls person's whole life
- Progression
- First drink/First win
- Blackouts/brownouts
- Enabling/bailout
- Withdrawal symptoms
- Denial and relapse
- Alcohol and drugs are painkillers; so is gambling
- Same feelings, backgrounds
- Low self-esteem, high ego (like cocaine addict)
- Rush and high of gambling similar to cocaine
- Physical disease/heart attacks
- Family disease/all need help
- Link to addiction in family
- Get whole family into recovery
- Loss of control
- Loss of coping skills
- Loss of feelings
- Mood swings/changes
- Denial

SIMILARITIES (continued)

- Manipulation
- Magical thinking
- Spiral downward/chase
- Job problems
- Obsession
- Relapse
- Isolation
- Emotional Pain
- Neglect of responsibilities
- Depression
- Use of addiction to try to cope and solve problems
- Want everything today
- Loss of value system
- Accidents because of distractions
- Lack of sex drive
- Dreams of gambling/drugs/alcohol
- Preoccupation

DIFFERENCES

- Alcoholics and drug addicts do it in a group; compulsive gamblers do it alone.
- Spend lots of time looking for money – sometimes more time than gambling.
- Invisible disease.
- Big win bailout.

DIFFERENCES (continued)

- In treatment, compulsive gamblers will run the show (President of the Community).
- Much more heavy financial problems.
- Alcohol and drug counselors tend to minimize compulsive gamblers as they see no problems.
- Put nothing in body.
- No saturation point.
- Never an overdose.
- No hangover.
- Fewer options for help.
- Cases of good employment record/still function on job.
- Bad spellers and readers/wonderful at mathematics.
- Gambling is an acceptable activity.
- Superstitions
- Can't see outward physical signs.
- Gamblers overlooked by professionals until late stages.
- No urine or blood test.
- Restitution must be made.
- No preventative medicine.
- Usually don't do violent acts.
- Can't see or smell
- Get high without substance.